To Meet Republican Candidate.

William H. Putnam will be in Putnam this (Tuesday) afternoon to meet with the other chairmen of republican town committees in Windham county.

Charles A. Goodwin, republican candidate for governor.

Hallowe'en Party.

The Nadel Arbels was entertained Monday evening at Ogdanskie, C. H. Bacon's summer cottage at Orient Heights. It was an ideal place for holding a Hallowe'en party and the evening was pleasantly spent.

To Unveil Leclair Memorial.

C. A. Caron, supreme secretary; Dr. H. Boucher, supreme physician; Attorney Albert H. of Woodstock, and St. P. Bismont of Bridgeport, vice president, are among the important officers of union St. John Baptist who will speak in town hall next Sunday afternoon at the Leclair memorial exercises. It is expected that there will be about 400 men in the procession that will march from the hall of the society in the Keystone building to St. James' cemetery, where the beautiful memorial to Dr. Charles J. Leclair is to be unveiled. The visitors will come from many points in Connecticut and nearby states.

RALLY THIS EVENING.

Republican Candidates to Speak in the Town Hall.

The first redoubt of the campaign is to be held in Danielson this evening in honor of the coming of Charles A. Goodwin, republican candidate for governor, and the other speakers of note who are to give addresses at the big republican rally in the town hall. The fact that Hon. Castello Lippitt, candidate for state treasurer; Congressman E. W. Higgins and Hon. John Leclair are to speak, the latter in French, assures that the audience will be a big one. St. James' band is to play at the rally and also act as escort during such a short parade as may be arranged.

NEW SUPERVISOR

Chosen by Joint School Boards—Name to Be Announced Soon.

While a selection has not yet been positively made, it is probable that the man who is to receive the appointment as supervisor of the schools in Killingly and Brooklyn will be named in a few days, possibly this week. The candidate who most favorably impressed the joint committee of the school committees of the town as the man to be named for the place is at present acting as principal of a high school and supervisor of schools in a Connecticut town. He is a graduate of Bowdoin college and a classmate of Robert O. Small and C. E. Stone, two former principals of Killingly high school.

East Killingly Has Hallowe'en Celebration.

East Killingly people enjoyed themselves Monday evening at a Hallowe'en party given in Paine's hall at that place. The affair was arranged by the Church Helpers in conjunction with the C. E. society. The volunteer band furnished music. There was a fortune teller on duty to tell of the past, present and future and many other features in keeping with the mystery season that is deemed essential to such affairs.

Brooklyn's Donation To Day-Kimball Hospital.

The good people of Brooklyn are contributing to the annual Thanksgiving donation of groceries, vegetables, eggs, butter and fruit for the Day-Kimball hospital at Putnam, an institution to which the residents of all the towns in this part of Windham county are indebted. The distribution of the bags this year in the town mentioned, is in charge of Mrs. Sidney W. Bard.

MILLS ALL BUSY.

Only Thing Lacking is Satisfactory Water Supply.

The industrial situation in Killingly has taken on a new hue during the past few weeks. If some heavy rains would only contribute to the badly needed supply of water and help out cotton mills, the town might well consider itself fortunate in the prosperity of its manufacturing plants. The big mill of the Asawaga company at Putnam is running in good shape, the Danielson Worsted company has resumed operations and is running day and night and the mill of the Thistle Worsted company is also busy. Up at East Killingly the mills are keeping their wheels a-turning. In addition to this comes the Connecticut Mills

SUPERIOR COURT.

Judge Holcomb to Preside at Wednesday's Session.

Judge Marcus H. Holcomb will be in Putnam tomorrow (Wednesday) to preside at a session of the superior court for Windham county. Two cases are assigned—Louis Gobin vs. George Frink, and Hovey Allen vs. Charles A. Byles. TWENTY-ONE LICENSES

Granted by County Commissioners on Monday—No Remonstrances in Any Case.

All applications for liquor licenses—21 in number—were granted by County Commissioners Charles L. Barber of Plainfield, E. H. Cortis of Thompson and E. W. Hall of Windham when they met in the offices of Judge E. M. Warner, clerk of the superior court, Monday.

There were no protests or remonstrances against any of the applicants to the places to be licensed, so the commissioners had something of an easier day than is customary when so many applications are to be considered. The places licensed are in each instance the same as those now doing business.

Four druggists' licenses were granted, which was within one of the number that applied; the fifth applicant was out of town, so his license will be granted later.

CONGRESSMAN HIGGINS

Guest of Swedish Club of North Grovesdale on Monday Evening.

Congressman E. W. Higgins went into the northeastern tip of Windham county Monday evening to be the guest of the Swedish Republican club at North Grovesdale. His trip to the "farthest north" in his district was to accept an invitation from his Swedish constituents there and be their guest at what was in a measure a private party.

The club numbers about 80 members, and they, with a few friends, and the republican leaders of Thompson made up the gathering that greeted the congressman.

What Mr. Higgins had to say to them was pertinent to the political issues now facing the voters of Connecticut.

OBITUARY.

Dr. George Austin Bowen.

Dr. George Austin Bowen, 69, one of Woodstock's eminent residents, died in that town Sunday, following a long illness with a heart ailment.

Dr. Bowen was born in Woodstock, where he has spent practically all his life. July 7, 1841, the son of the late Edward Eaton and Saphronia Penland Atwell Bowen. Mr. Bowen's parents moved to Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1851, and it was in the schools of that city and in the university of New York that he received his education, graduating from the latter institution with the degree of M.D., in 1862.

Dr. Bowen remained in Brooklyn, practicing his profession for eleven years, when, in 1873, he returned to Woodstock.

During the 37 years since that time he has received many honors from his home town. In politics he was always an active republican. At various times during his career he held many offices, being in 1902 a delegate to the constitutional convention, representative the following year in the legislature, while back in 1895 he was honored with appointment as surgeon on Gov. O. Vincent Coffin's staff.

Dr. Bowen had at various times filled places of honor in Woodstock's organizations, his service in this respect including terms as president of the Woodstock Agricultural society, secretary of the Woodstock Farmers' club, and director of the Woodstock Creamery association.

In Grange circles he was very well known, having served as lecturer and master of the state grange and high priest of the national grange. He was also at one time president of the Patrons' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Hartford.

The Masonic fraternity had paid him the honor of election to many offices and his interest in the affairs of the brotherhood was always active.

Dr. Bowen leaves his wife, who was Miss Catherine E. Bertram of Rye, N. Y., and a sister, Miss Agnes E. Bowen of Brooklyn, N. Y.

CHARLES A. GOODWIN

Coming to Putnam Today for Conference with Chairman of Town Committees.

Charles A. Goodwin, republican candidate for governor, is to make an unadvertised visit to this city today (Tuesday).

The purpose of this visit is for a conference with the chairmen of republican town committees from all sections of the county. The gentlemen will meet Mr. Goodwin at the Putnam inn to discuss the campaign and the final efforts to be made for party success at the state election one week from today.

Arrangements have been made to serve dinner at the inn to a party thirty-five, at one o'clock. So aside from the town chairmen there will be a number of party leaders present. Mr. Goodwin will reach Putnam on a morning train, going from here after the meeting to Danielson, where he is to speak at a big rally this evening.

The Great Powers Demonstrated His Skill.

The "Great Powers" furnished an interesting and amusing demonstration of the possibilities of hypnotism to his audience at the Bradley theater Monday evening, combining the scientific with the ludicrous in his operations with a class of volunteer subjects from among those present.

Judge Warner Speaks at Waterbury.

Hon. Edgar M. Warner of Putnam, superintendent of prison and jail work of the state Christian Endeavor union, delivered an interesting and stirring address Sunday morning at the Second Congregational church. Mr. Warner has been brought into contact with a great number of unfortunates, common drunkards, men who were "down and out" and is a deep student of criminology.—Waterbury Republican.

Not Pleasantly Impressed.

We are not pleasantly impressed with the statement that the C. D. Boss cracker manufactory of New London, whose reputation for good products has been national, has been absorbed into the Federal Biscuit company of New York, which is a trust with $20,000,000 capitalization. To be sure, the combine can, if it will, afford products to the public cheaper than the individual concerns of which it is composed, and if the tendency shall be to bring up the whole business to the level of the Boss concern in the past, there will be "compensating advantages." But we have doubts.—Bridgeport Standard.

A Typical Farmer.

David Rankin, who died at Terkio, Me., last week, cultivated twenty-three thousand acres of land that returned him an annual income of about a hundred thousand dollars. Yet the local papers speak of him as "a typical farmer." Were that so there would not be much trouble in getting people "back to the land."

Caught Cold!

How often it happens that serious illness and sometimes death, is directly traceable to neglect of a "common" cold. After it is too late, what wouldn't we give to have checked the cold at the start, when it would quickly yield to simple home treatment.

A most effective remedy, that will usually break up a cold over night and quickly relieve the most irritating cough, is made by mixing 2 ounces of glycerine, a half-ounce of virgin oil of pine and 8 ounces of pure whiskey. Shake well, and take a teaspoonful four times a day. The ingredients for this mixture can be bought in any good drug store, and easily mixed together in a large bottle. This formula was used and recommended for many years by the late Dr. W. A. Leach, who founded the Leach Chemical Co., of Cincinnati, O., in whose laboratories the virgin oil of pine is compounded.
